

Label the British Isles

A blank map of the British Isles, including Great Britain, Ireland, and the Shetland Islands. A compass rose is located in the top left corner, with 'N' for North, 'S' for South, 'E' for East, and 'W' for West. The map is labeled with 'Ocean' to the west of Ireland, 'Sea' to the east of Scotland and south of England, and 'Channel' to the south of England. There are several arrows pointing to specific locations: one to the Shetland Islands, one to the Orkney Islands, one to the Hebrides, one to the west coast of Scotland, one to the east coast of Scotland, one to the west coast of Ireland, one to the east coast of Ireland, one to the south coast of England, one to the south coast of Wales, one to the south coast of Ireland, and one to the Channel Islands. There are also stars marking specific locations: one on the west coast of Scotland, one on the east coast of Scotland, one on the west coast of Ireland, one on the east coast of Ireland, one on the south coast of England, one on the south coast of Wales, and one on the south coast of Ireland. A small inset map in the bottom right corner shows the location of the British Isles within Europe.
